Medical Cannabis as a Pharmaceutical – Part 3: Microbiological Risk and Quality Control

Tim Sandle

By Jan 26, 2021 8:00 am EST

As this interest continues, the quality of medicinal cannabis needs to be strengthened and the same standards applied as they would to any other pharmaceutical preparation. This article considers the microbiological aspects; a previous article looked at the analytical methods and outcomes in relation to medicinal cannabis manufacturing (and the first article in this series considered medical and pharmaceutical cannabis products in general). MICROBIAL QUALITY During the preparation of medicinal cannabis products, microbiological qualit
