Management Roundtable #2 - Respecting Employees

Paul L. Pluta

By

Apr 27, 2021 7:00 am EDT

INTRODUCTION Discussion of non-technical management topics is always an area of interest in validation and QA professional meetings. Validation and QA function management is difficult; these functions are often not appreciated in the manufacturing plant. Validation is the last step in development, equipment, cleaning, or other activity and is always limited in time to complete their responsibilities -- Validation is often a cause of delays. QA functions enforce GMP regulations, documentation practices, and procedural requirements -- QA always finds problems. Management...

Source URL: http://www.ivtnetwork.com/article/management-roundtable-2-respecting-employees